For Immediate Release:

March 12th, 2009: Midwest Printed Circuit Services, Inc. (Round Lake Beach, IL) and Bartlett Manufacturing Company, Inc. (Cary, IL), have agreed to strategically integrate their Printed Circuit Board manufacturing businesses.

The integration is a collaborative effort between the two companies, aimed at expanding the product offerings and services to their respective clients, while maximizing efficiencies of combined facilities. This integration will enhance and compliment processes and technologies developed by each company, solidifying an organization that will support customers globally, and further expand their U.S. market share of printed circuit board business.

Drawing on the reputation and technical capabilities of both companies, management is certain that the synergies produced by this integration will bring to the forefront the strengths of both companies, while creating a strong foundation for growth. A full integration plan has been developed and will be presented to each client individually to assure a seamless and uninterrupted transition.
